High Citizenship of Arizonans

Among the testimonials to the qualifications of the citizenship of Arizona for statehood may be mentioned the records of the criminal courts. It has been marked by some recently that the crowding criminal docket at Tombstone should not be too prominently referred to in the newspapers for fear of misleading eastern people as to the regard of Arizonans for law and order. The fact that the criminal division of the court has been decidedly effective in disposing of offenders during the last two terms is one of the best advertisements Coconino county can boast. Crime does not flourish in this part of Arizona as it would if the courts were less aggressive. That Arizona's reputation for law and order is appreciated beyond the confines of the territory, is shown by the following complimentary observation in the El Paso Times:

"There is one thing that can be said in favor of the men who compose Arizona juries, and that is they believe in punishment for crime. A perusal of court records all over the new state will convince anyone that Arizona criminals are getting just what they have coming, and it is a condition that reflects on all Arizonans."

Cochise County Made a Creditable Exhibit

In speaking of the various mining and agricultural exhibits on display at the Sixth annual Territorial Fair, the Phoenix Republican gives the Cochise county exhibit very favorable mention for its agricultural products and mining display, and in reference to the exhibit from the Sulphur Springs valley it says in part:

"The Sulphur Springs valley peanuts are bigger than any that find their way this far from Virginia. There are pumpkins, potatoes, beans and several other kinds of vegetables from that section, but few fruits."

Although the exhibit of farm products was not as extensive as might have been expected, owing to the hail storms and floods had during the latter part of the summer, which destroyed many truck gardens in the county, the display was more than could have been expected under the circumstances.

The Tombstone agricultural district was well represented, as was the San Pedro valley. The mining companies of the county donated many specimens of various kinds of ore which added materially to the present permanent mineral exhibit from this county.

Cochise county was represented in every department at the fair with the exception of the dog show. Exhibits from this county are on display in the mineral, apian, woman's, educational, poultry and cattle departments, and as a whole was a very creditable display.

U. S. vs Nine Barrels of Vinegar

The United States vs Nine Barrels of Vinegar is the title of a civil suit filed in the U. S. Court at Globe, under the Pure Food Act. This assignment was shipped to a Globe firm by the Sharp-Elliott Mfg. Co., of El Paso, Texas, under the representation that it was pure table vinegar. The U. S. claims that it is not vinegar, but is a solution of acetic acid colored with burnt sugar, and that it is adulterated by substitution. There are two charges against the Sharp-Elliott Mfg. Co., in the U. S. court at Tucson. Several similar cases are expected in Coconino county the coming term of the U. S. court.

Lady Maud C a Wonderful Pacer

Second in interest only to the now famous constitutional convention, Phoenix came into the limelight by reason of having the track upon which the fastest mile was ever paced by a mare.

When Lady Maud C, owned by the Savage stables, started out to beat her record of 2:02 1/2, hope, tinged with doubt that she would equal her record, went through the large crowd which filled the grand stand.

The first quarter was made in 30; the half in 1:00; three quarters in 1:29 3/4 and the mile in 2:00 1/2, cutting off fully 2 seconds. This is the fastest mile ever paced anywhere in the world by a mare and beats the world's record held by Daniel of the Savage stables for a mile made by a pacer. Lady Maud C's record is more wonderful by reason of the mile being made without a pacer, but made with a running mate. Some watches caught the mare at 2:00 flat. Minor Hairs attempted to lower his record of 1:58 1/2, but the best he made was 1:59 1/4, the last half being made in 58 1/4, a world's record for any half mile on any track.

Woman Admitted to Arizona Bar

All the previous records for admission to the bar were broken Tuesday when 22 well known men from the territory were granted licenses, by the supreme court, to practice law in the territory of Arizona.

Among the applicants admitted was Mary Alice Wufferman of Yuma, the second woman in the history of the territory to be admitted to the bar. Mrs. Thomas Sorin, erstwhile of Cochise county, bearing the distinction of being the first.

Proceedings of the Statehood Convention

PHOENIX.—The convention today passed Proposition 4 of the Initiative and Referendum, Cooper's amendment to segregate cities and counties and leave legislatures powerless was lost. No action was taken on Prohibition clause.

After a sharp debate on the question of prohibition, the Arizona constitutional convention decided Saturday to defer until today consideration of the proposed amendment to the initiative and referendum proposition, which separates cities and counties in legislative elections.

The committee on suffrage voted against giving votes to women. Two members voted favorably on the Connolly proposition to submit the question of suffrage to a vote of the men and women of the new state.

The prohibition question which was up in the constitutional convention, apparently was satisfactorily settled by the adoption of an amendment recommended in one of the minority reports of the legislative committee as a substitute for the initiative and referendum proposition. The attempt of the "complete home rule for cities" faction to strike counties out of the operation of the initiative and referendum, was renewed this morning, while the prohibitionists again sought delay.

The convention has adopted one section of the new constitution. It was the proposition of Mr. Lynch relating to criminal prosecutions and providing for the doing away with the grand jury unless it should be ordered by the court, and was reported by the committee on style and revision to be free from flaws.

Another debate will be precipitated by the report on a system of judiciary procedure which abolishes the fee system and fixes the number of state officers and their salaries. The report favors having the first officers elected hold office until Jan. 1, 1913.

The executive committee reported a proposition on state officers and salaries as follows: Governor, $5000; secretary of state, $4000; auditor, $3500; treasurer, $3500; attorney general, $2500; superintendent of public instruction, $2500, the terms to be two years. The report favors the abolishment of the fee system.

The final vote recommending the adoption of the majority report on the recall was 37 to 11.

The convention defeated the amendment excluding supreme and superior judges from the recall, 18 to 30.

The judiciary committee reported adversely the juvenile court bill, providing for the care of minor offenders; the bill giving the right to organize, strike, picket and boycott, and also the one requiring five years residence for United States senators.

As passed, to effect the recall a petition must be gotten up and signed by at least 25 per cent of the electors, and good and sufficient reason must be made clear why the petitioners want the man removed from office. The one affected may be a candidate to succeed himself if he so chooses, but in case he does not want to take advantage of this opportunity to vindicate himself, he must make known his wishes not to be considered a candidate in writing, on filing of this petition his name will not be printed on the ballot. An election must be held for a successor within 30 days from the time the petition is filed. The incumbent is to fill the office until his successor has qualified. No petition can be circulated against an official until he has been in office at least six months, save that a member of the legislature may be petitioned against when he has been in service only five days.

The report is denied in some circles as it is declared that Epes Randolph could not accept both duties.

The offices of the Phelps-Dodge Co., owners of the El Paso & Southwestern, are closed today on account of the election and official confirmation or denial of the report could not be obtained.

A New York dispatch says—

When seen by a Citizen representative today, Phelps, Dodge & Co. characterized as absurd the report that Colonel Epes Randolph of the Southern Pacific has been made or will be made president of the El Paso & Southwestern.

"The report is absurd and entirely without foundation," declared Mr. Dodge. "Mr. Randolph is an excellent railroader, but his name has never been considered by the El Paso & Southwestern. The Citizen can deny the report unqualifiedly."

The Citizen adds that an effort was made there to communicate with Col. Randolph regarding the report, but he is in Los Angeles.

Harry Hersey, trainer of the Savage stables, says the Phoenix fair grounds track is four seconds faster than any other in the world.

Knights of Pythias Elect Grand Officers

The Arizona Grand Lodge, K. of P., in session at Phoenix, elected grand lodge officers for the ensuing year as follows:

Judge J. N. Campbell of Tucson, grand chancellor; W. G. Gilmore of Tombstone, grand vice chancellor; J. F. Ross of Douglas, grand prelate; J. D. Lopez of Phoenix, grand K. B. S.; L. D. Redfield of Benson, grand master of the exchequer; Tom Smith of Phoenix, grand master at arms; Dr. L. E. Wighton of Globe, grand inner guard; F. W. Smith of Williams, grand outer guard; Professor A. J. Matthews of Tempe; B. Hattich of Tombstone and John Hamilton of Kingman, grand trustees.

The Pythian sisters elected Lelia McKee, grand chief; Lulu Terrell, grand senior; Mrs. Harrington, grand junior; Mrs. Martin, mistress; Mrs. McMein, mistress of records; Mrs. Barrett, mistress of finance; Mrs. Peltzer, proctress, and Mrs. Holcomb, outer guard.

Tombstone Has a Boosters Club

A number of Tombstone merchants and business men met Monday evening and formed an organization to be known as the Tombstone Chamber of Commerce. The object of the organization is to promote the general welfare of Tombstone, and to further the commercial, mining and other interests of this district.

The officers elected are: Douglas Gray, president; Frank N. Wolcott, vice president; L. F. Kuchenbecker, secretary; C. L. Cummings, treasurer; John Rock, J. H. McPherson, F. N. Wolcott and E. H. Reeves compose the executive committee.

The prospectors believe in, and have therefore advocated, the formation of a chamber of commerce for this city. Much good can and will be accomplished by such an institution in advertising the city abroad and bringing to the attention of the outside world the many advantages possessed by Tombstone and the surrounding country as a field for mining investment; correct information as to our resources and needs will be given and the superlative advantages of this city as a health resort, its splendid school facilities and the general desirability of the city as a residence place.

The names of the men who are behind this movement to bring Tombstone to the front are a guarantee that the new organization will be a success, and that it will continue to grow in numbers and power and influence as the years go by.

Randolph for Head of E. P. & S. W.

A New York dispatch says: That Epes Randolph, vice president of the Southern Pacific of Mexico and active head of the Southern Pacific interests in Arizona, is to be president of the El Paso & Southwestern is the report published here.

The report is denied in some circles as it is declared that Epes Randolph could not accept both duties.

The offices of the Phelps-Dodge Co., owners of the El Paso & Southwestern, are closed today on account of the election and official confirmation or denial of the report could not be obtained.

The strike of the boilermakers against the Tucson division of the Southern Pacific Co. is over and the boilermakers who walked out last week, following the discharge of J. H. Plunkett, who had been employed as a foreman under Master Mechanic Peterson, have returned to work.

Immediately after arriving in Phoenix and dressing after the ride from Bisbee, the Copper Queen band serenaded the offices of the three daily newspapers. The organization was most favorably commented upon in each of the publications.

The case against Frank Russell on charge of illegal voting was called before Judge McFarland this afternoon. Beyond the general denial by defendant that he committed an illegal offense, no defense was offered and he has bound over under $1000 bond to appear before the next grand jury. Russell was under bond pending hearing and shortly after the court order was entered bond was again furnished for $1000 with John Rock and O. Simpson as sureties.

One That Will Keep Them Guessing

The Kissel Kar record from Los Angeles to Phoenix is one that will keep the automobilists guessing if they beat it. Of course they will try again next season, and may cut down the time, but the odds are very much against it. Making a record of that kind over long stretches of desert and over roads that have had no attention in years, is a remarkable feat, and surprised the most sanguine of automobilists.

Harry Hersey, trainer of the Savage stables, says the Phoenix fair grounds track is four seconds faster than any other in the world.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

From Friday's Daily

Court reconvenes on Monday next, when the familiar faces of the trial jurors, attorneys and court attendants will again be in evidence.

Charlie Purdon, lieutenant of the erstwhile redoubtable republican leader Horat A. Smith, when asked what he thought of the elections, smiled and said: "Don't cheer, boys, we poor devils are dying," as Captain Phillips said at Santiago.—International.

County Assessor Howe returned today from the Phoenix fair and reports it better than ever.

George Gallen has returned from the fair and adds his word of praise of the "last territorial fair in the United States."

Undersheriff Hopkins today sold the garden truck loaded upon at the Chinese gardens at Hereford, under judgment granted to the Greens Cattle Co. A great many potatoes and much of the other vegetables were spoiled and the entire lot brought but $180.

Mrs. Fred Sutter Passes Away Today

Word was received from Bisbee today that Mrs. Sutter, wife of Hon. Fred Sutter, died in Bisbee this morning from heart failure. She has been ill for several weeks, but in the past few days was reported improving, and her friends were hopeful of recovery. They were shocked to hear of her sudden taking off. Mrs. Sutter was known to many people in Tombstone, who will regret to hear of her demise. The sympathy of the community goes out to her husband in this time of great bereavement.

Will Hold Its Annual Convention

The Arizona Sunday School Association will hold its annual convention in conjunction with the Third District Association in Phoenix November 25th, 26th and 27th.

The railroad companies have extended the Thanksgiving special reduced rates so as to cover the dates of the convention. Going tickets may be purchased on the 23rd, 24th and 25th, with a return limit of November 28th.

Arizona Woman Is Robbed in the East

A Phoenix dispatch says—

Bound and gagged in a Pullman berth, Mrs. Sherman Fiske of Phoenix was a few days ago robbed of all the money she was carrying with her, by two masked men. The robbery occurred between St. Louis and Kansas City.

Only the most meager details of the affair have been received. These details were embodied in a brief letter to Mr. Fiske, who is employed as a draftsman in the surveyor general's office at the capitol.

Cochise Land Gives Splendid Returns

G. G. King, who owns a homestead in the Sulphur Springs valley, eight miles north of Douglas, was in Bisbee yesterday looking up the hay market. He is one man who made good in the valley this year, producing 175 tons of sorghum hay from his ranch and cutting 80 tons of wild hay on the ranch and from adjacent land. This hay he is now offering for sale and it will bring him a splendid return for his years work.

The sorghum hay is said to be equal to alfalfa as a feed for stock and should bring an equal price. The wild hay sells for $10 to $12 per ton.

Injustice to the Yaqui Indians

Although no definite advice regarding the violation of ex-Governor Yaqui's grave has reached here, and while the ordinary classes credit the port and attribute the deed to the Yaqui, clear-minded Mexicans pass it by as an idle rumor and a slur upon the stolid race of Indians who a pledge of submission has not yet been broken.

When the Yaqui signed the protocol of peace three years ago and laid down their arms after a struggle unequalled in atrocious warfare, they vowed to forget the past and its grievances, and to share citizenship with the people they had so long resisted as bitter enemies. Bule, their chief, as drawing 10 pesos per day for services as an officer in the Mexican army; other prominent followers are similarly, but less notably employed; the tribesmen are tilling their farms and working in mines and mills throughout the state—a few being in Cananea; their property rights have been respected and they have become fixtures in the section's industrial life. This attempt to rake the ashes of an extinguished fire is regretted and deemed an injustice to a peaceful race.

Arizona Pharmacists Organize at Phoenix

The Arizona Pharmaceutical Association was organized at Phoenix Wednesday. Half of the druggists in the territory are already represented and a complete membership is expected inside a year. The object of the organization is to advance the interests of the druggists, and is based on the old principle that in union there is strength. The following officers were elected: Harry Brislake, of Prescott, president; E. J. Huxtable, of Bisbee, first vice president; H. B. Cate, of Phoenix, second vice president; W. Y. Hunter, Flagstaff third vice president; R. P. Roneine, Phoenix, secretary-treasurer.

Commits Suicide at Cananea

Considerable excitement was caused by the suicide of E. T. Houghton at Cananea Sunday. He spent several hours preceding the act at the Cananea club, writing letters to relatives and local friends. Borrowing a .45 calibre revolver, he walked up the street to the three story rooming house where he lived, and in plain view of the passers-by, shot himself through the heart, the bullet passing entirely through his body. Houghton was to be married about Christmas time, the young lady of his choice being popular and well known. He told some intimate friends shortly before his death that a recent physical examination by physicians in Tucson had shown that he could not live over four years, and that afflicted as he was with tuberculosis, he should not marry.

Frank Hereford's Condition Critical

According to a telegram received here today from Los Angeles, Attorney Frank H. Hereford underwent an abdominal operation last night and is now in a critical condition, says the Tucson Citizen.

The younger children left for Los Angeles yesterday afternoon in the care of a nurse. Jack Hereford accompanied Mrs. Hereford to the coast several days ago.

Arthur Bard of the Pacific States film exchange is in Tucson from Los Angeles with a view of opening an exchange there to supply films to various moving picture shows there and in other cities in Arizona.
